

College of Arts and Sciences

Department of Theatre and Dance

December 6, 2013

Dear High School Theatre Teacher or Advisor:

THE UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA
ARTS & SCIENCES

The University of Alabama Department of Theatre and Dance invites all high school seniors or college transfer students interested in pursuing a degree in Theatre to attend auditions for departmental scholarships and admission to the musical theatre track, as well as a portfolio review for design/tech students, on Saturday, January 25, 2014.

Our department has been offering theatrical training within a liberal arts setting for over fifty years. Our undergraduate and graduate programs have produced many distinguished alumni in the theatrical world, including Tony Award winner for Best Leading Actor in a Musical, Norbert Leo Butz. Recent grads are working on Broadway and off-Broadway, in national tours, at regional theatres, and in feature films, television series, and commercials.

This past summer marked the tenth year of our SummerTide Theatre in Gulf Shores, Alabama, garnering rave reviews and offering professional performance opportunities to our students. And last spring our ninth New York Showcase introduced graduating seniors to the professional theatrical world, and resulted in auditions, offers from agents, and performing jobs for the participants.

With approximately 150 theatre majors, we are small enough to offer individualized instruction, but large enough to mount an ambitious season of eight shows per year (including two musicals) at our Tuscaloosa campus, as well as our summer musical in Gulf Shores. Our faculty consists of dedicated teachers who are also theatre professionals with distinguished national and international credits, and they are deeply committed to bringing out the best in our students.

Included with this letter are registration forms, audition guidelines, program information and a poster. Please visit us at theatre.ua.edu to find more information and an online form.

For information on specific program areas, contact:

Raphael Crystal (Musical Theatre), 205-348-8856, rcrystal@as.ua.edu

Audition/Scholarship Day – Guidelines

YOU MUST BE A HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR OR COLLEGE TRANSFER STUDENT.

REGISTRATION:

Fill out the Audition/Scholarship Day Registration Form and return it by mail or fax. Musical theatre applicants should also fill out the Supplemental Musical Theatre Application. These materials must be completed and turned in no later than the Monday immediately prior to the audition date. (ex. If audition date is Saturday, November 16, 2013 then materials are due by Monday, November 11, 2013.)

ALL ACTORS:

Prepare a 90-second (or less) monologue of your choice (classic or contemporary) that best shows off your acting skills. Please note that you will be cut off at the 90-second mark.

MUSICAL THEATRE:

In addition to the monologue, prepare two theatre songs (16-measure audition versions, but know the complete songs): an up-tempo and a ballad. Women who can belt should include both belt and legit. There will be an accompanist; bring sheet music. Do not sing a cappella or with recorded accompaniment. There will also be a dance audition. Bring dance clothes, and character and jazz shoes, if you have them.

CLOTHING:

Standard audition attire is required. Come dressed for the acting audition. Musical theatre applicants will have a few minutes to change into dance clothing for the dance audition.

SCENE DESIGN & TECHNICAL THEATRE

COSTUME DESIGN/PRODUCTION:

If available, bring examples of your design work. These designs can be realized work or class projects. Drawings, sketches, models and photos presented in an organized manner are a great way to show off your skills. If you do not have design work prepared, do not be intimidated. You are still encouraged to talk to our design faculty.

NOTIFICATION OF ACCEPTANCE:

If you have been selected to receive a scholarship from the Department of Theatre and Dance you will be notified by February 28th. All Musical Theatre Track applicants will also be notified of their status by February 28th.

SNACKS:

Snacks will be available, but there will not be a lunch break. Please eat before you arrive or bring any snacks you may prefer.

Musical Theatre

If you are planning to study Musical Theatre you should consider The University of Alabama. In the fall of 2004 the Department of Theatre and Dance initiated a Musical Theatre Track. Admission is by audition – applicants prepare two songs, a monologue and take part in a dance audition.

Students who are accepted into the program take a core curriculum of theatre courses, together with continuous study in dance technique (including ballet, modern, jazz and tap), voice and repertoire coaching.

They also take specially designed courses in musicianship for musical theatre performers, musical theatre scene study, and advanced courses in the history of musical theatre styles, cabaret performance and the in-depth study of significant shows.

The Department produces three musicals a year -- two as part of our regular season in Tuscaloosa, and one at our professional SummerTide Theatre in Gulf Shores, Alabama. These performance opportunities are supplemented by student-produced productions.

We are committed to bringing the best of the theatrical world to our campus. Our faculty includes nationally recognized theatre professionals. Their efforts are supplemented by distinguished visiting artists and teachers.

We are equally committed to connecting our students to the professional theatrical world through internships, mentoring and our New York Showcase, which presents graduating seniors to agents, casting directors and other industry professionals.

All of this is offered within a traditional liberal arts BA program, in the intellectually and culturally stimulating environment of The University of Alabama.

Contact: For more information on the Musical Theatre Track Program please contact Raphael Crystal, Director of Musical Theatre, at rcrystal@as.ua.edu or at (205) 348-8856.

Acting

The Acting Program within The University of Alabama's Department of Theatre and Dance is a rigorously structured sequence of study that prepares the Undergraduate major to pursue a career in performance or more specialized study at a leading Graduate Acting program. Upon completion of this sequence, students will have a solid base of technique and will have become proficient in a wide array of acting styles and methods.

Initial acting courses are designed to encourage the realization of a highly personalized, confident expression on stage. Advanced courses are offered in Greek Drama, Shakespeare, Moliere, European Realism, Classic Comedic Styles (including Wilde and Coward), Acting for the Camera, Contemporary Theatrical Styles, and Careers in Theatre.

Acting courses are augmented by intensive study in Movement and Voice for the Stage. Advanced movement courses include specialized study in Clowning, Mask Work, Stage Combat, Suzuki, Contact Improvisation, Physical Characterization, Tai Chi and Karate.

Advanced vocal courses include specialized study of Fitzmaurice (destructuring/ restructuring), Linklater, Rodenberg, Berry and Lessac techniques. They also include the study of phonetics (IPA), stage dialects, archetypes and alba emoting.

As many of our graduates go on to pursue professional careers, this department is resolutely committed to assisting with that transition through organizing internships, seeking local theatrical and film casting opportunities for exceptional students and through our New York Showcase, where students have secured representation by AEA and SAG franchised talent agents, as well as interest by major casting directors.

Courses in this track, and the Department of Theatre and Dance as a whole, are taught by a vibrant, dedicated faculty of working professionals, who bring a wealth of national and international experience to the classroom.

Auditions: Auditions for Departmental Scholarships in Acting for the 2014- 2015 academic year will be held Saturday, November 16, 2013 and Saturday, January 25, 2014.

Contact: For more information on the Bachelor of Arts in Acting, please contact Seth Panitch, Head of Acting Programs, at spanitch@as.ua.edu.
